The newest red-carpet tresses are mussed-up and unkempt

Forget pristine and polished – messy textured updos are the key to red-carpet glamour this season, taking inspiration from Proenza Schouler's autumn/winter catwalk show. Didier Malige, lead stylist for Frédéric Fekkai backstage at the show in New York, created a dishevelled look by spritzing Fekkai's Oceanique Toused Wave Spray, Dhs98, onto hair before roughly blow-drying and pulling it back into a messy ponytail.
